A. INTRODUCTION

Recently the Ministry of Justice and Human Rights, RI become a byword in the case of parole Mr. Pollycarpus. Since November 29, 2014, convicted of the murder of Human Rights (HAM) Munir Said Thalib had obtained parole based on the Minister of Justice and Human Rights W11.PK.01.05.06.0028 No. 2014 dated November 13, 2014. This decree provides the legal basis to Pollycarpus to be able to breathe and gain coaching outside Penitentiary.

In this case. Director General of Corrections, Ministry of Law and Human Rights believes that the person concerned is considered to be eligible for parole. In the community, the decision to get the pros and cons. Human rights activists are disappointed with the parole given to the convicted murder of the activist. Among them, the NGO Imparsial was disappointed with the government decision to allow bail to Pollycarpus. The decision seemed to dashed hopes of the people who want investigated the death of human rights activist, Munir Said Thalib, up to the full (Republika.co.id, Jakarta. Accessed 31 December 2014).

Pollycarpus eligible for parole after serving eight years of a sentence of 14 years in prison sentence handed down against the Supreme Court. Pollycarpus was found guilty in the death of Munir on the plane Garuda Indonesia, ten years ago.

To the decision on granting parole, the Solidarity Action Committee for Munir (KASUM: Komite Aksi Solidaritas untuk Munir) will do a subpoena to the president. Meanwhile, the claim is to revoke the granting of parole to convict the murder of human rights activists, and hope the President can consider to revoke the parole. According to Chief of General Staff, very unfortunate if the president gets a subpoena (Tribunnews.com, Jakarta. Accessed 31 Desember 2014).

Granting parole to convict, making the most elements of society who care about human rights to feel disappointed. In fact, they look forward to the president to be able to reopen the case and investigate the mastermind killer to be brought to justice. Given all this time, the main actors human rights activist killers are yet to be revealed.

Related to these polemics, the Ministry of Justice, had asked the Head Office of the Ministry of Justice and Human Rights and Prosecutor's West Java, as the competent institutions in the area of Bandung Sukamiskin Penitentiary, to provide information in a press conference. This needs to be done in order, the public better understand the real issues related sitting issuance of the decision on granting parole.

Meanwhile, the Ministry of Justice and Human Rights requested that all elements of society to respect the rights of prisoners, let alone convicted Pollycarpus was not included in the category of prisoners stipulated in Government Regulation No. 99 Year 2012 on Tightening Remission. In this case, the rejection of the request for parole for prisoners who are eligible are his rights. Thus, the refusal will only contrary to human rights. In legal terminology in the System Corrections, Parole is a training ground for the inmates who had run 2/3 of his criminal past. Parole is the process of coaching beyond Correctional Institution inmates held under Article 15 and Article 16 of the Code of Criminal Law and Articles 14, 22 and Article 29 of Law No. 12 of 1995 concerning Corrections (Keputusan Menteri Kehakiman Republik Indonesia Nomor M.01.PK.04-10 Tahun 1999).

Provisions concerning the terms and procedures for the implementation of the rights of inmates, as mandated in the Act - Act No. 12 of 1995 concerning Corrections and based on Government Regulation No. 32 of 1999 on the Terms and Procedures for Citizens Rights Patronage Correctional jo. Government Regulation No. 28 Year 2006 regarding Amendment to Government Regulation No. 32 of 1999 on the Terms and Procedures for Citizens Rights Patronage of Corrections and Regulation of the Minister of Justice and Human Rights of the Republic of Indonesia Number: M.01.PK.04-10 of 2007 on the Terms and Procedures for Assimilation, Parole, Leave By the Free and Conditional Leaves.

The setting of prisoners' rights should also refer to the international human rights according to the agreement, for each country, are obliged to respect human rights law, without exception. With the establishment of international law on human rights, the collective guarantee for the protection and fulfillment, automatically continue to be developed. International jurisprudence, also encouraging, it also provides limits of national jurisprudence that does not deviate much from the general legal principles accepted (Instrumen Internasional Pokok Hak Asasi Manusia, 2006).

In explanation of Law Number 12 Year 1995 regarding Correctional states that the penal system is a continuum of criminal law enforcement, and therefore its implementation can not be separated from the development of general conception of the criminal prosecution.

Inmates are not only objects but also subjects that do not differ from other human subject can make mistakes or negligence that may be subject to criminal, so it does not have to be eradicated. The most important thing here is to be eradicated are factors that can cause the inmate to do things that are contrary to law, morals, religion, or social obligations other liability which may be subject to criminal.

Punishment is an attempt to sensitize inmates to be regretted, and return them become good citizens, obey the law, uphold moral values, social and religious, in order to achieve a society that is safe, orderly, and peaceful (UU No. 12 Tahun 1995).

Based on the above background, the authors try to do research with the title "prisoners' rights relating to granting parole" for purposes of the development of scientific knowledge and an understanding of the passage of the process of granting parole in the correctional system.

Based on the description above, several problems arise and become the framework for preparing the authors of this paper.

The problem that needs to be formulated as follows:

1. Does parole convicted Polycarpus as the killing of Munir Said Thalib, in accordance with statutory regulations?
2. What makes up the considerations that may affect the assessment of decision on granting parole to a convicted?

B. METHODS

The method used is descriptive method, the method of scientific research that is based on inductive thinking groove in approaching scientific truth. The inductive thinking associated with the development of generalization of the results of specific observations. In other words, the research methods that will be done is descriptive-analytic.

Flow thinking consists of three steps: (1) Observation, is to do a careful monitoring or object of study, (2) discovery of patterns, are finding various patterns associated with the object of research, and (3) The conclusion, temporary tentative is to draw conclusions from various circuits and patterns of objects. This research was conducted by way of describing the process of granting parole was associated with Law No. 12 1995 at the Correctional Institution Class I Sukamiskin, Bandung – West Java.

C. RESULT AND DISCUSSIONS

1. General Review on the Rights of Prisoners and Parole

a. Rights of Prisoners

One of the aims of the Indonesian State Constitution (UUD 1945) is to protect the entire Indonesian nation and the entire country of Indonesia. The purpose of the destination country that protects and covers the entire nation entirely. So, the country overcome all groups understand, overcome all know individuals. State, according to the definition of "opening" it wants the union covering the entire Indonesian nation entirely (UUD 1945).

Nation, essentially made up of human beings, in the sense of political nations is a society that is in an area or region are the same and they are subject to the sovereignty of the country as a supreme power out and into. Human beings in a country having separate groups, this organization must be protected, including a group of Prisoners.

Prisoners according to Law No. 12 of 1995 concerning Corrections chapter one (1) Paragraph Seven (7) is undergoing criminal offenders lost its independence in prisons. Paragraph six (6) the convicted person is a person who is liable under a court decision which has obtained permanent legal force. The fact Prisoners are people who have been found guilty by a court decision, however, only human who has certain rights which continue to cling to him while he was alive.

A Chapter X of the 1945 Constitution on the second amendment on Human Rights contains several provisions concerning the rights of Prisoners, namely:

Paragraph D of Article 28 (1)

"Everyone has the right to recognition, security, protection, and legal certainty and equal treatment before the law"

In addition, Article 28 I Paragraph (1) also states that:

"The right to life, freedom from torture, freedom of thought and conscience, freedom of religion, freedom from enslavement, recognition as a person before the law, and the right not to be prosecuted based on retroactive law is a human right can not be reduced under any circumstances"

All matters relating to the protection and then set back in the Act are further regulated as mandated in Article 28 I paragraph (5), namely:

“To uphold and protect human rights in accordance with the principles of a democratic constitutional state, the exercise of human rights is guaranteed, regulated, and set forth in the legislation”.

The mandate of the 1945 Constitution, it then becomes a reference issued by the Law of the Republic of Indonesia Number 12 of 1995 concerning Corrections. Basic considerations issued this Act that essentially the Citizens Patronage of Corrections as a human being and human resources should be treated well and humanely in one integrated guidance system (Undang-undang Republik Indonesia Nomor 12 Tahun 1995).

Enforcement of inmates with good and humane stipulated in this Law, correctional guidance system is implemented based on the following principles:

- a. Aegis
- b. Equality of treatment and care
- c. Education
- d. Guardianship
- e. Respect for human dignity
- f. Loss of independence is the only suffering, and
- g. Ensuring the right to maintain contact with families with certain people (Pasal 5 Undang Undang No. 12 Tahun 1995).

In addition, article 14 mentioned Prisoners are also entitled to:

- a. worship according to religion or belief
- b. treatment, both spiritual and physical care
- c. get an education and teaching
- d. health services and decent food
- e. file a complaint
- f. get reading materials and following other mass media broadcasts that are not prohibited
- g. a wage or premium for work performed
- h. receive family visits, legal counsel, or another particular person
- i. get a reduction in criminal past (remission)
- j. get a chance to assimilate including home leave
- k. parole
- l. getting off work nearing release, and
- m. acquire other rights in accordance with the legislation accepted.

Then, Article (2) says:

“The provisions concerning the terms and procedures for the implementation of the rights of inmates referred to in paragraph (1) shall be regulated further by a government regulation”.

It is then governed by the Indonesian Government Regulation No. 32 of 1999 on the Terms and Procedures for Correctional Citizens Rights Patronage accordance with the mandate of Article 2 of Law No. 12 of 1995. The setting of the inmate rights should also refer to international human rights, for each country, are obliged to respect human rights law, without exception.

By establishing of international human rights law, the collective guarantee for the protection and fulfillment, automatically continue to be developed. International jurisprudence, also encouraging, it also provides limits of national jurisprudence that does not deviate much from the general legal principles accepted (Ake Arif, 2006: 11).

Besides that, the International Prisoners regulation of rights stipulated in the Standard Minimum Rules for The Treatment of Prisoners and article 7 of the Convention on civil rights and political.

In the Standard Minimum Rules for The Treatment of Prisoners agreed upon by the Congress of the United Nations in Geneva, 1955, Approved Economic and Social Council in 1957, noted some of the inmates rights, namely:

1. Access to court
2. Protection from cruel and unusual
3. Civil rights
4. Protection of rights in decisions when adverse consequences are possible

Also, concerning the protection of the rights contained in the convention Prisoners also civil rights and politics. Civil rights and political rights are derived from the inherent dignity and of the human person are guaranteed and respected by the Government so that people are free to enjoy the rights and freedoms in the field of civil and political (<http://www.hukumham.info>). Article 10 of the convention states.

Every person deprived of liberty shall be treated with humanity and with respect for the inherent dignity of the human person.

1. The suspect, except in circumstances very specific, should be separated from those who have been convicted, and to separate treatment appropriate to their status as unconvicted persons;
2. Accused juvenile persons shall be separated from adults and brought as speedily as possible for adjudication.
3. The correctional system should have the main purpose of reformation and rehabilitation in treating inmates. Juvenile offenders shall be segregated from adults and be accorded treatment appropriate to their age and legal status (Konvenan Internasional Hak-hak Sipil dan Politik).

As for the obligation to protect the rights of civil and political rights of citizens in accordance with Article 8 of Law No. 39 1999 affirmed that the protection, Promotion, Enforcement and fulfillment of human rights is primarily the responsibility of government (Konvenan Internasional Hak-hak Sipil dan Politik).

From both these laws, both national and international sources of law concerning the protection of human rights Prisoners may become a reference to the protection of human rights Prisoners.

2. Inmate Guidance Stages

In general, of prisoners coaching aims to enable them to become fully human as has been the direction of national development through approaches:

- a. Confirming of their faith (mental toughness).
- b. Coach them to be able to interact naturally in the life of the group over the Penitentiary and broader life (community) after undergoing criminal.

In particular, guidance is intended to allow of prisoners during and after the development is finished running its criminal past:

- a. Successfully re-establish self-esteem and confidence and optimism about the future.
- b. Successfully acquire knowledge, skills for the provision of at least able to live independently and participate in national development activities.
- c. Successfully become law-abiding man who reflected on their attitudes and behavior orderly discipline and be able to raise a sense of social solidarity.
- d. Successfully has a soul and a spirit of service to the nation and the state (Keputusan Menteri Kehakiman Republik Indonesia Nomor: M. 02-PK.04.10 Tahun 1990).

Based on the Circular No. KP.10.13 / 3/1, dated February 8, 1965 of the Penal As a process, it can be argued that fostering adult inmate executed through four (4) phases, which is a unified process that is integrated, including:

a. First Step

For any inmate who entered at the Correctional Institution to investigate all matters concerning him, including the causes of inmate commits an offense and any information about themselves that can be obtained from family, former employers or superiors, fellow workers, the victim of his actions, as well of officers' other agencies that have handled his case.

Guidance at this stage is called formation early stage, in which the future activities of observation, research and introduction of environment to determine the planning of program implementation personality development and independence which time started at the time in question the status as Prisoners of up to 1/3 (one third) of its criminal past. Guidance at this stage was done in Prisons and control the maximum (maximum security).

b. Second Step

If the training ground for the inmate in question had lasted for one third of the actual criminal past and by Correctional Observer Team had achieved considerable progress, among other things showed conviction, improvement, discipline and abide by the discipline rules accepted at the Correctional Institution, then Inmates concerned to be given a lot more freedom and placed on Prisons through medium-security surveillance.

c. Third Step

If the coaching process of Prisoners have undertaken ½ (half) of the criminal past actual and according to Correctional Observer Team has achieved considerable progress, both physically and mentally and also in terms of skills, the container process of fostering an expanded program Assimilation whose implementation consists of 2 (two) parts, including:

- a) The time starts from the end of the initial phase of up to ½ (half) of its criminal past. At this stage, coaching is still held in the Penitentiary and supervision has entered the stage of medium-security.
- b) At this stage the time starting from the expiration of the first advanced up to 2/3 (two thirds) of its criminal past. In this advanced stage Inmates already entered the stage of assimilation, and therefore could be given parole or Leave By the Non-security with minimum supervision.

d. Fourth Step

If the coaching process has undergone 2/3 (two thirds) of the actual criminal past or at least nine (9) months, this coaching is called the final coaching stage which activities such as planning and implementation of integration programs started towards the end advanced stages until the end criminal past of Prisoners concerned. Guidance at this stage of Prisoners who are qualified to be given Leave By the Free or parole and fostering carried out by the Central Penitentiary Correctional then called Client Correctional Supervisor. guardianship is the provision of guidance to improve the quality of devotion to God Almighty, intellectual, attitude and professional behavior, physical and spiritual health Correctional Client.

According to Adi Sudjatno scope of coaching based on the Ministry of Justice of the Republic of Indonesia No. M.02-PK.04.10 1990 on the Guidance Pattern Inmates can be divided into two (2) areas, namely (Keputusan Menteri Kehakiman Republik Indonesia Nomor: M. 02-PK.04.10 Tahun 1990):

1. Personality Guidance which includes, including:

- a. Religious consciousness guidance.
- b. The state and nation guidance.
- c. Intellectual abilities (intelligence) guidance.
- d. Awareness of the law guidance.
- e. Integrate themselves with society guidance.
- f. Autonomy guidance provided through programs, namely:
- g. Skills to support independent businesses, such as handicrafts, household industry, repair machinery and electronic equipment, etc.
- h. Skills to support small industry, for example, the management of raw materials from agriculture and natural materials into semi-finished materials and into finished materials.
- i. Skills are developed in accordance with the talent of the inmates respectively.
- j. Skills to support the efforts of industrial or agricultural activities (plantation) technology using intermediate or high-tech, such as leather industry, textile mills and so on.

Aside from the Guidance Patterns convict based on the Ministry of Justice of the Republic of Indonesia No. M.02-PK.04.10 1990 on the Prisoners Guidance Pattern, then according to Adi Sujatno there are fundamental elements in supporting the coaching of interest in the penitentiary system, including:

1. Inmates themselves.
2. The officers / employees of Penitentiary.
3. Society, in this case that includes government agencies and private institutions, social organizations, families of inmates themselves.

As for the prisoners, based on the Ministry of Justice of the Republic of Indonesia No. M.02-PK.04.10 1990 on the Prisoners Guidance Patterns in Chapter VII of the Implementation Guidance detainee stating that the form coaching, including:

- 1) Detention Services.
 - a. The legal assistance.

- b. Spiritual counseling.
 - c. Extension physical.
 - d. Talent guidance.
 - e. Skills guidance.
 - f. Library.
 - g. The things that must be considered in carrying out guidance activities.
- 2) Guidance Prisoners and Protégé.
 - a. The stages of coaching.
 - b. A form of coaching.
 - c. Guidance of Prisoners who receive special attention.
 - 3) Guidance Client.
 - a. The stages of guidance.
 - b. Approach guidance.
 - c. Form of guidance.

3. Analysis of Legal Rights of Prisoners and Parole

Parole to convicted murder of human rights activist Munir Said Thalib, Pollycarpus, in accordance with statutory regulations.

As described above, by corrections, inmates who entered the first examination of the letter and detention, namely Decree (Extra Verdict) Judge, it is to facilitate the calculation when the inmates will undergo stages of development as well as determining the rights to the prisoners got Assimilation, the Parole, Towards Free or Conditional.

To get parole, which must be met by residents of Corrections proposed Patronage granted parole or Voorwandely Invrijdsteling (VI) and leave Toward Free means should qualify substantive namely the implementation of assistance programs implemented properly and diligently and never get disciplined. In addition to the requirements subsantif to be met by a citizen Patronage of Corrections is admin requirements must also be met as well as the Research Community, a guarantee letter from the family signed by the family over the seal or paper stamped, known to the Neighborhood and the Village Head or Head Village where the Guarantor and the Correctional Patronage Citizen domiciled or residing. In addition to the above for Citizens Patronage of Corrections to be given parole must be a declaration of the State Attorney where residents Patronage of Corrections convened stating that he had no other cases that have not been disconnected.

As for the purpose of parole for inmates is to facilitate their return to society (resocialization), as well as to motivate citizens Patronage of the Penal good behavior during his criminal past in the Penitentiary. Understanding of the Parole, was the one who was jailed be released with the agreement, if it has then two thirds of the sentence is true and also at least nine months (KUHP).

Parole different to leave ahead of the free and off parole, furlough nearing release is not intended to put an end to the punishment, because the inmate and protege correctional (except children civilian) who has completed a time off towards free and leave conditional will return to the Penitentiary to finish his term, while aiming to end parole punishment (Peraturan Menteri Hukum dan Hak Asasi Manusia Republik Indonesia, 2007).

Correctional Centres through the role of Community Advisors make sustainable plan in cooperation with the Penitentiary (Prison), doing research community. So, the social research conducted since jail term is executed, it can be used to determine the right coaching program for prisoners. Community mentors can play a role to explain stage phase that will pass while serving time in prisons and the rights owned in coaching such as parole, conditional time off, free to time off ahead of the final stages in the coaching and ongoing treatment program after his release (Moch. Sueb dkk., 2008).

Parole according to the Indonesian Government Regulation No. 32 of 1999 on the Terms and Procedures for Citizens Patronage of Corrections, stated that: Parole is a training ground outside Penitentiary inmates after serving at least 2/3 (two thirds) of the criminal past of at least nine (9) months, then coaching in this stage enters the final stages of development, namely in the form of planning and implementation of integration programs initiated since the end of the advanced stage until the completion of criminal past. At this stage, for prisoners who are eligible granted leave nearing release or parole, coaching is done outside the prison by Correctional Center then called Coaching Client Correctional.

Implementation of the Parole at the Correctional Institution Class I Sukamiskin not without obstacles, whether it is internal resistance that occurs, especially as one example of the prisoners and protege correctional itself, which often does not support the implementation because it does not show attitude and good behavior, as well as notification and request by the social researcher prisons are not well coordinated so that the delay in the process to obtain parole. While external obstacle is a suspicion of a number of community-related abuses of power by local officials have, in the stages of its development process, as well as their concerns about security threats.

The authority in granting parole, leave nearing release and conditional leave, based on the Minister of Law and Human Rights No. 01. M. PK. 4:10 Year 2007 on Terms and Procedures for Assimilation, Parole, Leave Towards Free, And leave is conditional, namely the Head Office of the Ministry of Justice and Human Rights locals on behalf of the Minister of Justice and Human Rights to Leave By Free or leave is conditional and the Director General of Corrections for Convicts and Learners of Corrections who had been convicted of a criminal offense as stipulated in Government Regulation No. 28 Year 2006 regarding Amendment to Government Regulation Number 32 of 1999 on the Terms and Procedures for the Implementation of the Right People Patronage of Corrections after obtaining approval from the Minister of Law and Human Rights Republic of Indonesia to the Parole.
